Loyalty

We the students of the schools of America have a job to face that is equal to the combined tasks of past generations. We, by Light and Truth, should be able to make the difficult road of the future easier.

We are imbedding in our minds now various traits, one of which is LOYALTY, a trait that will make or break a nation. Loyalty is the backbone of our nation. But what are we doing to create and preserve this sense of loyalty? Students are preparing themselves for the future by increasing their knowledge. Thus they will make themselves useful citizens of the United States of the future. They are preparing themselves for the jobs that will be necessary for the betterment of the future.

Some of us are learning the use of delicate instruments; some of us are taking advantage of the use of the social sciences for a better understanding of the government and ways to improve it; others are learning the value of the currency of this country and its proper use; others are preparing themselves for the further development of their knowledge in far greater institutions of learning. There are still others who are doing their part in some way, no matter what it may be or how little or how big it may seem. Surely this is Loyalty.

This school has done its part to produce loyal citizens. We not only appreciate this but shall prove our ability to catch the torch and carry on.

In Our

Unseen yet strong and intimate, our loyalty to one another and to our school is ever present. To take this mutual sympathy, understanding and friendship from us is impossible. It is well this is so because without it there would be no organization and no harmony in our lives. It has always been here and it shall always be here. It is a bond between us, making us one.

Students who have graduated in years past give constant demonstrations of their faithfulness to their Alma Mater. They attend games, plays, musicals; they write letters from army camps spurring students on to more and bigger bond and stamp purchases. Teachers receive letters from alumni thanking them for some help or kindness received in the past. Donations toward school projects are another indication of the support of townsfolk. All who come and learn or all who are interested in the school in any way carry with them always memory of the part they played in this school's history. It is not only our school but theirs as well.

Today, the evidences of loyalty among the students are in the modern, casual fashion; but in actuality they are stronger because of the fear and horror the whole world is experiencing.

Classes

Willingness to share possessions, kindness, and sympathy are traits that now are becoming more and more prevalent in the average student. Some minor tragedy such as spilling the contents of one's notebook in a crowded hall brings a quick and helping hand, instead of the do-it-yourself attitude of a year and a half ago. A renewed faith and friendship with one another is fast springing up amoung us.

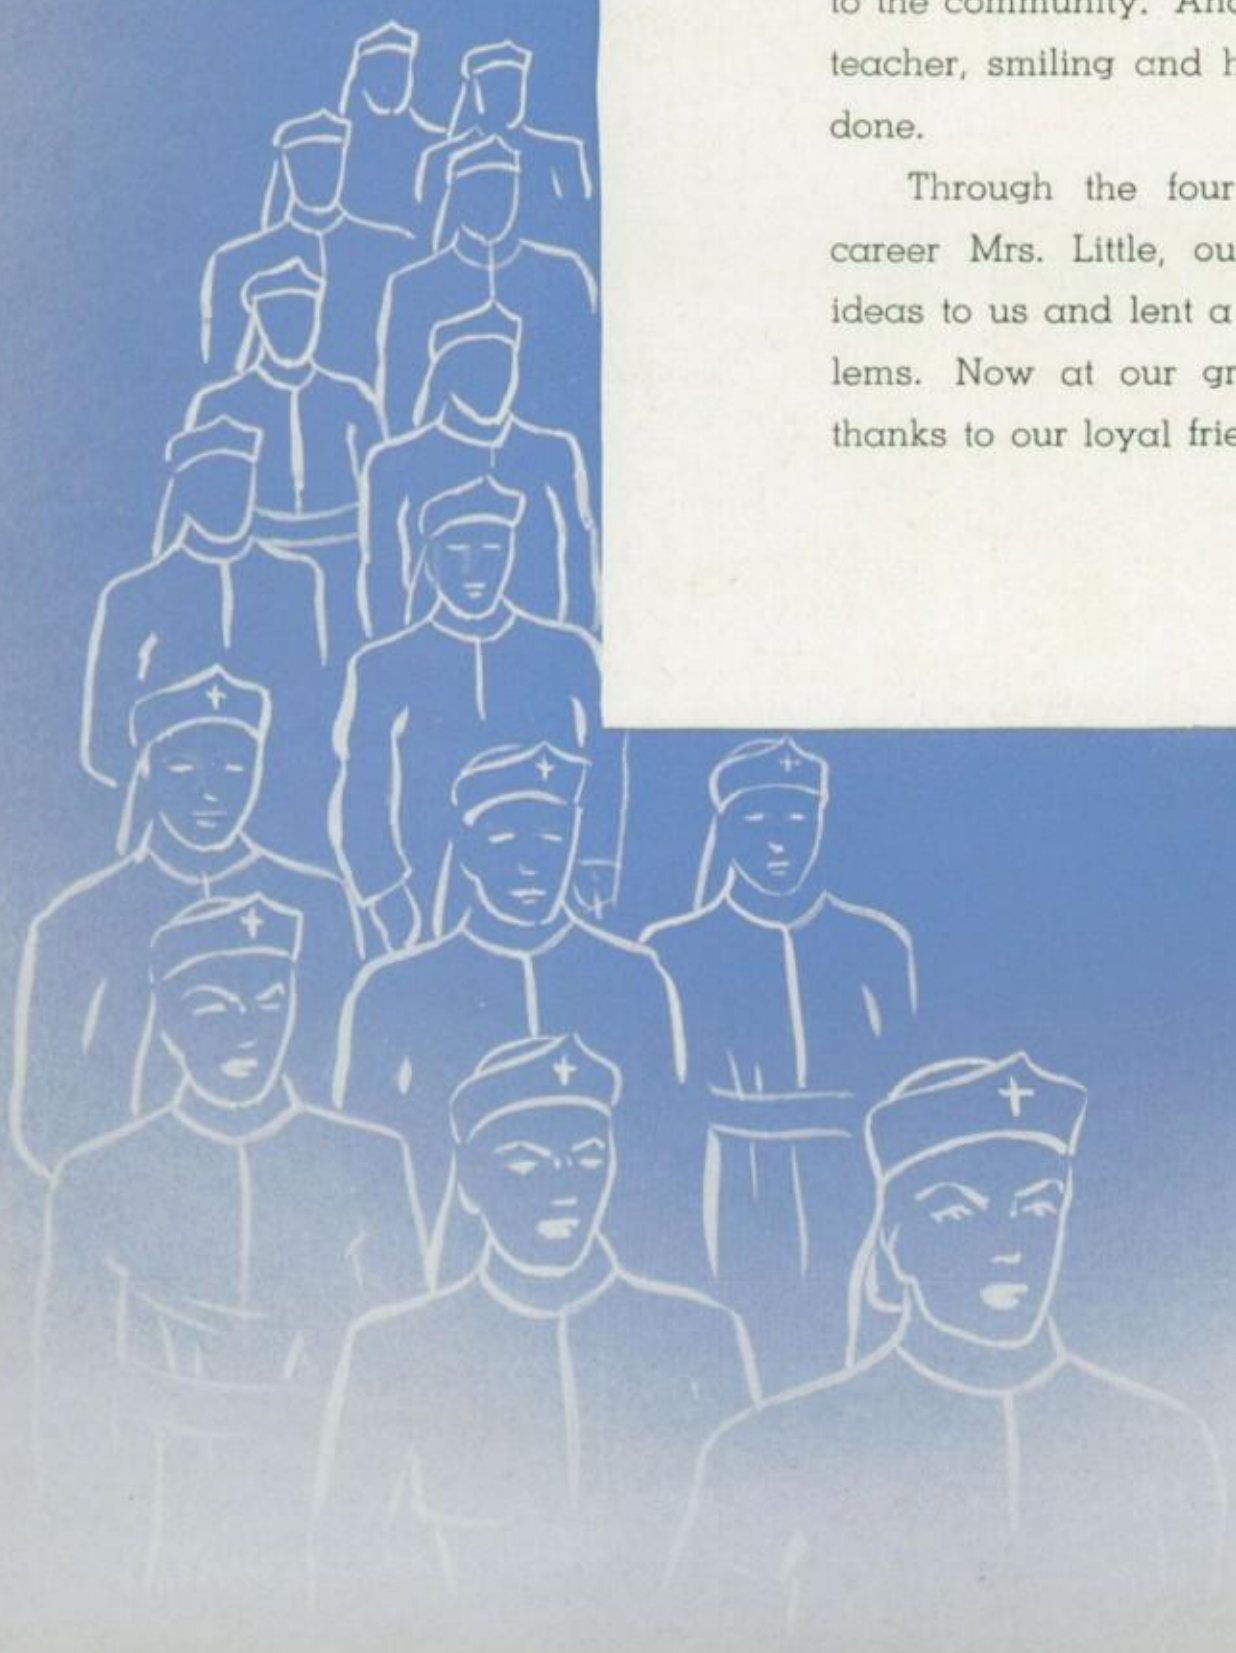
A greeting in the hall, a shared candy bar, a teasing about someone's best girl are the usual and unspectacular things of school life. But what is more important, they are real, living—they are our loyalty in action.

The war has broken up many of our homes, taken our brothers and sweethearts into untold danger. We hear what were once strange and somehow formidable terms applied to our own lives. We get up earlier to come to school in order to save electricity and free students for work early in the afternoon. We do without the car on party nights and wear last winter's coat. These are new things, strange and even a little frightening because they upset what we thought was an unchangeable, all-powerful way of life. But day by day we gather courage from one another and go on because our loyalty demands it.

Guidance

The real interest the teachers show toward students and their problems is a credit to La Porte High School. Day in, day out, stormy and fair weather, hectic and dull days, our teachers are always here, ready to help. Because of their instruction, interest, and helpfulness, many young people have been started on a road of life that is within their ability and suited to their likes and dislikes. They become responsible citizens and a credit to the community. And there, back of it all, is some teacher, smiling and happy because of a job well done.

Through the four years of our high school career Mrs. Little, our counsellor, has suggested ideas to us and lent a sympathetic ear to our problems. Now at our graduation we extend sincere thanks to our loyal friend, Mrs. Little.



Loyalty

Tragedy and a great expense are two of the inevitable outcomes of war. To relieve these things war bonds and stamps are sold. Our government, the best in the world, has seen to it that the service men and citizens alike benefit from the stamp and bond sale. The service men get their needs supplied and the citizen is financially advanced.

To save someone's life is a great thing. How easy it is to do just that by buying a bond! And how vital it is when we think that it might be our own brother or someone else whom we love very dearly. This is really the most important side of the question but the financial importance of such an investment must not be under-emphasized.

The rate of interest and the certainty of getting the money back, plus interest, are perhaps the two most outstanding features. There is no risk or chance of losing any part of the amount invested. Such a certainty can be found in no other investment. To prove this the biggest corporations and businesses in the nation are buying bonds at a tremendous rate. Trained in the art of making money, these companies invest their money without any hesitancy whatsoever. Following their lead, the American people are buying and will buy until this war is ended.

The American government, because it is the American government, offers the benefits of bond purchases not to a select few, or one nationality, or one creed, or one age level but to each and every individual. The students of this school realize the urgency of this problem and are buying war bonds and stamps in an ever-increasing number. This is as it should be; this is as it must be if we are to win the war. And win the war we will!

in our activities

Board of Education: Elwood O. Haun, Ben C. Rees, Dr. G. O. Larson.

W. R. Godwin, Superintendent

John M. French, Principal.

Leo M. Hauptman, Psychologist

Office Force: Mrs. Leona Collins, Mrs. Jean Hilgendorf, Mrs. Frances Burden, Mrs. Genevieve Serwatka, and Mrs. Sadie A. Barnes.

Administration

Dr. G. O. Larson, Elwood Hahn, Ben C. Rees, and W. R. Godwin comprise the Board of Education. The work and authority of this group extends over all the city schools. Due to their fine leadership and direction, La Porte has one of the finest school systems in the state.

Mr. Godwin, in the few years he has been here, has won the respect and loyalty of all the students. He well deserves it. Working conscientiously, and always with the student's benefit in mind the school has become an institution of cooperation so essential to our democracy. Under Mr. Godwin's leadership we shall go forward.

Mr. French has the tremendous responsibility of making our school run smoothly and efficiently with the least possible confusion. To do this he has had to employ understanding, kindness, patience and a maximum of executive ability. We herewith pay tribute to him as a man and an excellent principal.

Dr. Hauptman, director of secondary education, and psychologist, adjusts pupil-teacher relationships, lectures, and is a wise advisor to anyone who seeks his help. His presence at conferences has brought to La Porte High School many new and valuable ideas for a better school organization. Working in close coordination with Mr. Godwin and Mr. French, he is one of the school's most outstanding leaders.

The office force with Mrs. Leona Collins, Mrs. Jean Hilgendorf, Mrs. Frances Burden, Mrs. Genevieve Serwatka and Mrs. Sadie A. Barnes as members, take care of all the routine business. To best describe the part they play in L. P. H. S. life is practically impossible but in a few words they are our friends.

Faculty

This year an entirely different aspect has been taken on by the students toward their friends, the teachers. Through four seemingly short years in La Porte High School, we have gained much. Students realize that definite credit is due where it has been deserved for years although never fully paid.

Above all other things that the teachers have done they have tried to instill in our mind definite courses in mathematics, science, social studies or other subjects which will prove of worth to us during later years. Sometimes we wonder if our so-called "blue Monday" isn't just a horrible nightmare to them. Students mope through an hour of every class with that "What are you talking about?" look on their faces. In spite of all handicaps the teachers come through with flying colors; and as a result of their untiring efforts to try to impress some small bit of knowledge into the cranium's gray matter, we are able to leave high school and make a bigger and better place in the world. They answer every beck and call sent forth from the mystified faces, and in their casual way of encouragement, they have spurred us on to higher goals.

All a teacher is paid to do is to teach, but he does more than that. Our counsellors have offered their services by advising us upon a definite course that in their opinions would be best for us. These we respect and usually follow. They have acted as sponsors for our clubs; and while we shirked the big responsibilities, they shouldered them without a word of complaint. They also have stood guard at every door, extending greetings no matter how much they disliked being there, when they could have been enjoying a good play or game. They have directed our plays and coached us so that we might enter into competitive contests with other schools. All of these extra-curricular activities plus teaching contribute more knowledge to the student, more experience in handling our responsibilities, and development of our characters. They have tried to make us accurate and careful, tactful and courteous, patriotic and loyal. All of these, which every student really desires, constitute the traits that every employer and intelligent person looks for in another individual.

These members of the faculty must all possess these traits before they may ever try to pass them on to us. These, ingrained in their hearts make them outstanding above all other groups of professionals. Each and every student has a warm spot in his heart for the faculty members although he continually keeps it locked in the deepest recess of his heart. Very seldom does he let these thoughts pass from his lips even though they are there when he stops to think of all good things done for him by this unselfish group of men and women.

No matter how hard someone may try to erase it, the faculty of every generation leaves an indelible mark of faith, hope, education, and understanding upon the lives of their students.

In The Service

First to leave from the ranks of our faculty of LaPorte High School to enter the armed forces was Hagin Harper, assistant band and orchestra leader and director of Boys' Glee Club. Mr. Harper became a member of our high school faculty in September 1939 and was inducted into the army in October of 1942.

After the completion of his military service, we hope to have Mr. Harper again with us, inspiring students with musical talent.

Mr. Hagin Harper

Miss Nona Seeberg

Miss Nona Seeberg, instructor in speech, after only one semester in our faculty resigned, and accepted a position with the U. S. O. department of the National Red Cross. During her brief term here she made many friends among the students and members of the faculty.

From the rank and file of the student body, many boys have gone to serve under the flag of our country. We know their bravery, courage and leadership, and our prayers for their safety go with them. We hope we can be worthy of their great sacrifice.

Senior

How well we remember the day we entered La Porte High School. Four years ago—it seems but yesterday.

Maybe the seniors thought we were green, but we really weren't (maybe just a little). We had heard all about the pranks played on the incoming freshman; so we didn't fall for those gags—at least most of us didn't.

We had very competent leadership during our freshman year: Bob Groman, president; Margaret Leets, vice president, and Jayne Walton, secretary-treasurer.

At last we moved out of the ranks of green (?) freshman into the ranks of sophomores, which gave us the opportunity to join clubs such as the Girl Reserves and the Hi-Y Club. Of course we had to go through a "plenty stiff" initiation, but we lived through it.

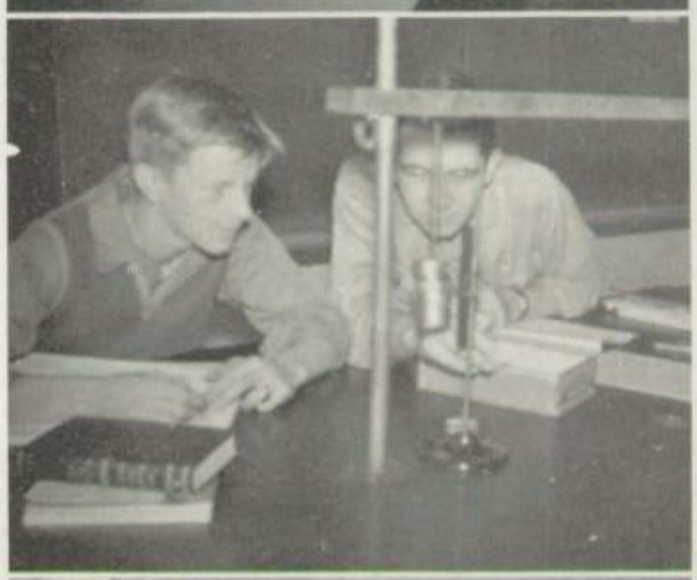
Our officers for that year were Richard Bachmann, president; Steve Cormick, vice-president; and Jayne Walton, secretary-treasurer.

We now approached the biggest years of our high school career. We were at last considered "upperclassmen".

The first major undertaking during our junior year was the junior play. "Young April" was chosen. On try-out night, senior study hall was packed with would-be actors. Everyone was practicing his lines—crossing his fingers and hoping he would be chosen for a part. After selections were made, Lucy Lindborg was given the leading feminine roll. Playing opposite her was Richard Bachmann. The play turned out a huge success.

After the play we devoted much of our time in finding a really "super" theme for the banquet. Believe me, we really worked hard. After racking our brains and losing many hours of sleep, we finally decided upon a Pan-American theme. It was our big chance to show the seniors that we really appreciated all the things they did for us.

Our next problem was the Prom. We chose a forest theme for that. We had loads of fun decorating the Civic, and also considered it fun being "excused" from classes to help with the decorations. Doris Swanson was chosen Prom Queen.



Story

Our officers who so capably helped us make our junior year a success were Richard Bachmann, president; Bob Groman, vice-president; June Wright, secretary; and Jayne Walton, treasurer.

The day dawned at last—we were high and mighty seniors. But being a senior wasn't all it was cracked up to be. We began feeling sorry that we had only one year left in good old L. P. H. S.

Now that we were seniors, it was up to us to sponsor the after-game dances. With Roy Kaber to guide us as our class president, the other class officers, the class sponsors, and the help of numerous committees, the dances went over big. Other class officers were Steve Cormick, vice-president; De Loris Vogel, secretary; and Charles Marshall, treasurer. Elected as class sponsors were Mr. Van Wagner and Miss Yeager.

This year we chose for our play, "Ever Since Eve". Some of the critics said it was the best class play in a long time. We were quite worried for a while, when Steven "Daddy" Cormick, our leading man, came down with the flu. We kept our fingers crossed, and it helped because he was "fit as a fiddle" in time to give an outstanding performance in the play. Helen Meadows had the female lead and did a good job. In fact, credit should be given also to the rest of the cast and to the committee who sewed ruffles on lampshades and pillows until they were blue in the face.

The latter part of November we saw seniors with small orange envelopes and heard comments such as this:

"Oh, let's see yours."

"Gee, mine are awful. What am I going to do?"

That's right—senior proofs. Everyone was in a tizzy trying to get his pictures in before the deadline. They made it.

The senior class would like to say "Thanks, loads" to Mrs. Little, who so graciously helped us for four years, choosing our subjects and figuring up our credits to see if we would graduate.

The time was becoming shorter and shorter, and here it was, graduation already. It is with sad hearts that we pass from the doors of our high school—the graduates of 1943.

National Honor Society

Outstanding leaders of LaPorte High School are the members of the National Honor Society. They are the school's select few, chosen for scholarship, leadership, character, and service. Being elected to the National Honor Society is one of the highest honors that can be bestowed on a La Porte High School student.

Membership in the Honor Society requires high qualifications. A student must be in the upper one-third of his class scholastically to be eligible. Those who are eligible are then rated by the faculty in leadership, character, and service.

Those whose pictures do not appear below and who are in the society are: Delbert Stevens, Agnes Wandell, and Muriel Wegner.

Underclassmen

No longer in the ranks of the underclassmen the Juniors sigh with relief. Finally they have become the upperclassmen and next year look forward to being Mighty Seniors.

Their selection of class officers was of the best; consequently, they have enjoyed a happy successful year in La Porte High. Fred Slinkard is leading this proud Junior class, as president; Danny Danielson, vice president; Helen Regan, secretary; and Phyllis Roberts as treasurer.

The time soon came for the Thanksgiving Dance. With every one working to-gether painting, planning and co-operating the Juniors sponsored one of the most attractive dances of the school year. The gym decorated with a huge turkey and novel attractive seasonal decorations, made this dance a spectacular one. The Juniors sighed and smiled with relief for their first big affair had been a success.

Next came the Junior Play and again Miss Mc Reynolds came to the rescue of the class, coaching a fine cast in a timely play of sabotage in an airplane factory. Eight leads competed with each other for honors and held the attention of the audience for two thrilling hours packed with excitement and comedy.

The climax of the Junior year was reached when the Juniors served as hosts to the graduating Seniors at the Junior-Senior Prom. A new note to this historic annual affair was seen in the predominating patriotic theme carried out both in decorations and costumes. The recent enlistments among the Junior and Senior boys accounted for a somewhat smaller attendance than in former years and lent a note of gravity to the occasion.

The Juniors are now ready to take the place of their graduating leaders leaving one happy year behind them. They look forward to an even more successful year as the next leaders in La Porte High School.

Just as the Juniors shouted for joy when they rose from the ranks of the underclassmen likewise the Sophomores were relieved to shed the horrible name of "green horns." They can now lift their heads and smile with the rest of the school.

As full fleged members of La Porte High this elated class started out with a bang by electing Douglas Parker for President; Elmer Martinsen, vice-president; and Tom Osborn, secretary and treasurer.

Since most of these Sophomores are Hep-cats, their leaders planned a few special assemblies featuring dance bands, which most of these jiving Sophomores relished beyond belief. Then came the night of all nights when this Sophomore class gave their traditional Sophomore Hop. This was another gala spring affair.

The Freshmen look up in awe at the Sophomores and complain because their Freshman year seems so long; but as the year wears on, we may safely say that the Freshmen have stopped running from room to room in astonished panic and now are getting more acquainted with their school.

At the first of the school year all the little Freshmen got to-gether and elected Bob Anderson to lead the way through their first bewildering year with Lawrence Jensen as vice-president and right hand man to the president and Barbara Weidman, secretary-treasurer.

The year seems unbearably long to them, but every day these growing Freshmen take another step closer to being a Sophomore and handing the long hated title of "greenies" on to the next crop of Freshmen.

Still smaller than these Freshmen come the little Freshies. They bounced right into high school with a sufficient supply of elevator tickets and plenty of assembly passes, learning, much to their surprise and regret, that they didn't need either. In January these Freshies decided that it was necessary that they have one special person to be their president and represent them in this new school. They chose Earl Dahl president; Tom Chase, vice-president; and Connie Anderson, secretary.

With Mrs. Russell as their fond advisor they have had many interesting and exciting programs. In their activity period they listen to talks given by the different clubs in high school and then sit and dream and plan about the clubs they wish to enter when they are older.

These growing Freshies haven't had much time for activities for they have been working feverishly to pass from————Blushing Freshies to Budding Sophomores.

LOYALTY IN ACTIVITIES

Third Row: Frank Cousins, Don Fosdick, Tom Hay.

El-Pe

Another year has rolled by in the annals of La Porte High School history, and another El-Pe has gone to press--not without numerous sighs of relief from the staff members, nor yet without sighs of regret for all the enjoyment we've had in planning this year's edition.

Starting out with a good resolve, we finally decided on our theme--Loyalty. Then came the job of collecting photos, doing write-ups, and getting the pages together to send off to the printers so that we could meet the deadlines.

Many Sunday mornings found us up in the little room at the end of the third floor, huddled against the radiator, with our thoughts and inspirations frozen, as well as ourselves. Many a week night found us stumbling through the dark corridors to end up finally in that important little third floor room, where the last pages had the finishing touches added to them.

Gathering the Senior pictures wasn't so difficult; but when we all turned detective to hunt down the identity of the hundreds of bright and smiling (?) faces grouped in the club pictures, it's no small wonder that we went around wildly pulling our hair. Any resemblance between a staff member and a totally sane individual was purely coincidental.

Our camera-men proved themselves to be very clever as they tip-toed around corners to snap candid shots of unsuspecting students.

Of course it wasn't all work. Despite food rationing, we always managed to have a very ample supply of candy bars, potato chips, and "cokes" to supply food for our thoughts.

After all the anxiety and headaches from worrying over write-ups and deadlines, we can look back on the many hours of hard work and realize how much we have gained by it.

The El-Pe work was done under the direction of Mrs. Thomas, whose tireless efforts were greatly appreciated by all. The staff consisted of Donald Fosdick, editor-in-chief; Phyllis Walter, assistant editor; Delores Vogel, senior editor; Martha Manson, activities editor; Tom Hay, sports editor; Jane Bixby, art editor; Bob Roberts, photographic editor; Frank Cousins and Gene Livengood, assistant photographic editors; Cleo Cook, business manager; and Marjorie Hare, assistant business manager.

Travel Club

Even though gas rationing has put a stop to travelling, we can's be stumped. Through movies, book-reviews, and travel talks, we become acquainted with the wonders of our country. Miss Jones is our sponsor. This year's officers are: Bill Mitchell, president; Harvey Shick, vice-president; and Martha Manson, secretary-treasurer.

First Row: Martha Manson, Harvey Shick, Miss Jones, Bill Mitchell.

Girl Reserves

The Girl Reserves started their school year early by sending two delegates from the cabinet to the state leader's conference for a week during June.

The membership drive in September wcs followed by a club supper and informal initiation for new members.

Programs to provide instruction in what girls can do to aid the war effort, to give hints for personal improvements, to encourage student participation, and to entertain for recreational purposes have been given every two weeks throughout the Semester.

During February, the club was represented by five members at the Northern Indiana Girl Reserve Conference in South Bend.

As usual, the chief social function of the year was the annual formal Christmas Dance, although we had a movie party for members and their "dates" in March.

The year was ended successfully with the Mother and Daughter's Banquet in May.

Our sponsors are Miss Beesley and Miss Huddleston. The cabinet members for this year are: Jane Bixby, President; Pat Siegel, Agnes Wandell, Delores Vogel, Natalie Mansfield, Lois Kipp, and Cheryle Curtis.

Debate

The question for debate this year was "Resolved: A feudal world government should be established". The first meet was held at Purdue where seven hundred students participated in practice debates and a student Congress. The school belongs to two debating leagues which are the National Forensic District League and the Indiana State Debating League. In the N. F. L. District League the team tied with other schools for second place. In the Indiana State Debating League the team won the district by defeating Michigan City. The team went to State where it was defeated in the semi-finals by Shortridge which in turn won the State.

First Row: Mrs. Little, Tom Sallwasser, Mary Ann Tanger, Mary Smith, Freida Howes, Clifford Gurney.

Biology Club

Jim Siegel and John Bradley organized the Biology Club. The members carried on several experiments and went on several interesting field trips this spring.

The club has had a successful first year and is looking forward to continued success in the years to come.

Miss Gourley and Mr. Ault are the sponsors of the club. The officers are: Jim Siegel, President; Margaret Lewis, vice-President; Virginia Manson, Secretary; and Tom Weaver, Treasurer.

First Row: Agnes Wandell, Norma Roysdon, Virginia Manson, Margaret Lewis, Tom Weaver, Barbara Badger, Robert Kelsey.
Second Row: Doris McAllister, Violet Roysdon, Joan Christensen, Kate Gurney, Ruth Prellwitz, Edna Maahs, Miss Gourley.

French Club

The occasional bits of French and shrieks of laughter issuing from room 204 didn't alarm the few lingering students. On the contrary, they knew it was only the French Conversation Club meeting again. When a person is talking French, anything can happen. And anything does happen every other Monday at three, when a few studious students gather to-gether to practice their French and, incidentally, exchange the latest gossip.

The officers are: Martha Manson, president; Norman Wilhelm, treasurer; and Nancy Rumely, secretary. Miss Dick is the sponsor.

First Row: Nancy Rumley, Martha Manson, Audrey Linton, Norman Wilhelm.
Second Row: Miss Dick, Lucille Lindborg, June Wright, Loreen Schultz, Jeanne Wright, June Tonn.

Hi-Times

"Did you get all your C P T's?"

"What's my beat this week?"

These are just a few familiar remarks that issue from room 200 where a harassed staff edits the Hi-Times. Because Journalism is a one semester subject there are two staffs a year, chosen by Miss Dick according to ability and personal preference. The staff is made up of two editors, two assistant editors, a filing clerk, a circulation manager, an exchange editor, three stencilists, three typists and an advertising manager.

The Hi-Times is put out entirely by students from the first typing to the final mimeographing and is published every week. Miss Dick is sponsor of the Hi-Times.

Home Economics

The Home Economics Club is open to all girls who are enrolled in Home Economics as well as all former Home Economics pupils and to any girls who have had 4-H Club work in the summer. The purposes of the club are Educational, Social, Cultural, and Charitable.

The club meets every two weeks and elects officers each semester. This year the club sent two representatives to the State meeting in Indianapolis.

First Row: Janice Gillway, Gloria Snider, Joan Mulholland, Pat Carey, DeLoris Vogel, Louise Hart, Dorothy Olson, Doris Huge, Evelyn Lemberis.
Second Row: Joyce Zahrt, Betty Bigham, Eloise Meinberg, Frances Lemberis, Mrs. Hotchkiss.

The Junior Red Cross Council is affiliated with the National Junior Red Cross. The local chapter has sponsored various services to the armed forces such as collecting hangers. It has also sponsored the collecting of clothing for the unfortunate, the loaning of money to students for medical aid, and the organization of students into 4-H clubs to raise victory gardens. Another way the Council helps to render service is by remembering students who are out of school on account of illness by sending them cards, flowers, books, etc. The Council contributes annually to the NationalChildren's Fund and also sponsors the making of Red Cross Garments.

The Council is composed of one member from each home room and any other students who are especially interested in Red Cross work.

Second Row: Maxine McMahon, Norma Roysdon, Gloria Astroth, Jessie Rupe, Marilyn Euler, Mrs. Hotchkiss.
Third Row: Eldean Gribble, Mary Ann Tanger, Margaret Stroble, Miss Olson, Miss Walk.

Hi-Y

The Hi-Y Club is a service organization. Among its many services is the Dime Line, to which the people of La Porte give small contributions which, in turn, provides a Christmas party for the needy children cf this city. At Thanksgiving, baskets are distributed to needy families. Other contributions made by the Hi-Y were to the Y. M. C. A. drive, the Y. M. C. A. World Service Fund, the U. S. O., and the Red Cross. The club had charge of the concessions stand at the game. Profits went to finance extra-curricular activities.

Record dances held at the Y. M. C. A., hay rides, and the regular formal dance, which was held at the Masonic Temple with Charlie Rogers providing the music, sum up the activities of the club.

Mr. Lewis is the sponsor. The officers are: Tom Sallwasser, President; Jim Siegel, vice-President; Harvey Shick, Secretary; and Charles Marshall, Treasurer.

Camera Club

The Camera Club members, having dubbed themselves the "Hypo-Splashers", was revived this year by a few candid camera fans, who found a sponsor in Miss Burrin.

Its purpose being to stimulate interest and acquire skill in photography, the club gave promise of developing into a profitable organization.

During the year, contests were held among the club members, which brought to the fore some excellent photographs. One of the club projects has been to donate a subscription to the U. S. Camera to the library in order to interest more students in this hobby.

First Row: Jack Ramp, Philip Godwin, Miss Burrin, Bob Roberts, Gene Livengood.

Tri-Hi-Y

The Tri-Hi-Y was founded in 1929 "to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community, high standards of Christian character." To this end, the club sold defense stamps at the local theaters, collected books for service men, worked for the Red Cross, and gave the profits from skating parties to the Fairview Hospital. However, all is not work in the Tri-Hi-Y. The club holds numerous parties, hayrides, dances, and steak fries. Talks by beauticians, librarians, college registrars, and hair and clothes stylists augment the business meetings. The highlight of each year is the Spring Dance when the Y. M. C. A. gym is transformed into a veritable fairyland for the enjoyment of the club members and their guests.

The officers of the club are: Natalie Mansfield, President; Jean Dorman, Vice-President; Frances Philippi, Secretary; and Shirley Glassman, Treasurer. The club sponsors are Miss Barros and Miss McReynolds.

First Row: Marilyn Garwood, Lois Wood, Miss Seeberg, Natalie Mansfield, Jean Dorman, Janice Walker, Shirley Glassman, Eunice Krueger.

Student Government

The Student Government of La Porte High School takes care of school business of a student nature, makes amendments to the constitution, takes charge of school elections, and appoints the school's standing committees. It is composed of the elected officers, a congress consisting of a representative from each home room, a school prosecutor, and six standing committees. The student body conducts the election of officers in the same manner as a city election, including the usage of voting machines. The following officers are elected: president, vice-president, secretary, judge of upper court, judge of lower court, clerk, and marshall. The prosecuting attorney and the following committees are appointed: social, program, pep, monitor, court, and P. T. A. Mrs. Little is our sponsor.

The Monitors

Like every city, the school city of La Porte must have its policemen, but they are called monitors here. Every hour of the day, the monitors strive to keep order in the corridors. When a monitor spies someone who is in the halls without a pass, he issues a summons, which allows the offender to pay a visit to our court. Under the guidance of Mr. French and Mrs. Russell, the monitors have become a well coordinated organization. The rules for the monitors are drawn up by the Traffic Commitee, this year composed of Shirley Glassman, Don Fosdick, Margaret Hoover, David Osborn, and Dick Stayton.

Committees

Many of the duties of Student Government are carried on the shoulders of the six standing committees. The Social Committee headed by Miss Anderson prepared the school calendar of social events. The Assembly Program headed by Miss Kelly took charge of our school assemblies. The Pep Session Committee headed by Mr. Hargrave planned our pep assemblies. The Traffic Committee headed by Mrs. Russell had charge of all school traffic including the monitor system. The Court Committee headed by Mr. Hyde and the elected court officials had charge of all court cases. The P. T. A. Committee headed by Miss Walk met with the High School P. T. A. executive council to plan various activities.

Axe Club

For eight years, the Axe Club has been backing the teams of La Porte High in all endeavors. They are the ones who help our lively and amusing pep sessions and who voice dislike for the officials' decisions. They work out the yells that are such tongue twisters, and lead them at the games. They are the nucleus of our school spirit, and the ones we look to to start a yell when it is impossible for the yell leaders to do so. It is a club for the school to be proud of, for it is held in high esteem by its rivals. The Axe Club was the first cheer club to be organized in Northern Indiana for the sole purpose of boosting the teams of its school. The leaders by far are the La Porte Axe Club—the boys who "Give 'em the Axe."

The officers for this year are: Tom Hay, president; Hugh Tyler, Vice-President; Roy Kaber, secretary-treasurer.

Slicerettes

One field of activity in which girls are not well represented is in that of sports. To somewhat compensate for that deficiency, the girls have banded together to make themselves heard "en masse" at the athletic events of the year. The Slicerettes, a cheering section led by an enthusiastic "rooter", are behind the teams in a soprano contralto combination and did much toward spurring the teams on toward victory.

A few social functions also served as a unifying force in this club group and included a hay ride, a stag party, and frequent supper parties before the games.

Mrs. Blank is the sponsor. Officers for the year are: Evelyn Lemberis, president; Dorothy Lamberson, vice-president; and Mary Robison, secretary-treasurer.

Girls' Bowling

The home of the girl bowlers of La Porte High School is the Civic Auditorium bowling alleys. Here the girls meet on Monday and Wednesday evenings after school. The club is made up of two leagues, each league composed of eight teams. Five girls make up a team. With the helpful points and encouragement of Miss Olson, the club turns out some top-notch bowlers.

Boys' Bowling

The Boys' Bowling League was made up of eight teams, with five boys on a team. The Zombies won the league, giving them the right to have their name engraved on the trophy.

Tom Hay had high individual score of 244. He also had the highest series.

Because of gas rationing, it was not possible to hold the conference bowling tourney. However, there were two matches held with St. Mary's School team. La Porte won both matches. The scores were 2453-2204 and 2396-2328.

Archery

A keen eye and well coordinated muscular control are requisites for prowess in the field of archery. The ability to let fly those winged darts and connect with the bull's-eye takes skill which incites the admiration of all devotees of the art. So far, no budding William Tell has appeared upon the scene, but with the club in session every Tuesday afternoon at the Civic, who knows but that at some future date some La Porte maiden may bring such honor to our community.

Miss Olson is our sponsor. Officers of the club are: Ruth Van Kosky, president; Naomi Travis, secretary; and Bernice Wegner, treasurer.

Marionette Club

An interest in puppet construction and manipulation was revived this year in the Marionette Club under the sponsorship of Mrs. Thomas. Play writing, directing, and staging became part of the activity, with a revival of interest in miniature stage lighting and understanding of stage guides, stage props, amplifying and recording. An original and timely play "Victory Gardens", written by John Hacker, promises to do its part in our club's sponsoring of the war effort.

Club officers are: Betty Bigham, president; John Hacker, vice-president; and Eleanor Thanhardt, secretary-treasurer.

Jeanne Peo, John Hacker, Mrs. Thomas, Tomalene Eckhart, Mary Ann Tanger, Jane Bixby, Betty Bigham, Martha Roebuck, Eleanor Thanhardt.

Senior Play

"Ever Since Eve" was a comedy concerned with the trials of a group of high school students intent upon producing a super-edition of their high school newspaper, THE PENGUIN, for a special Christmas issue. Rivalry between Susan Blake and Johnny Clover, co-editors of the paper, was intensified by Johnny's fatal attraction to a young Southern charmer, Lucybelle Lee. With the assistance of Betsy Ervin,Susan's best friend, and Spud Ervin, Johnny's business manager, the paper was finally produced—though results were surprising to a number of people, including the high school principal, Mr. Quinn, and the journalism teacher, Miss Willard. The play was full of excitement and laughter, complete with everything from the measles to the football team, pin ball games, and the barter system. It provided a charming study of adolescence and of understanding "grown-ups" in the characters of Mr. and Mrs. Clover and Officer Simmons.

The play was directed by Miss McReynolds.

Junior Play

"His Loving Nephews", a patriotic comedy-drama, was a timely production concerning the uncovering of a large group of saboteurs engaged in subversive activities in an airplane plant on the West coast. Hap Crandall and Bud Greer, two young men befriended by warm-hearted Mother Carey, were largely responsible for the apprehension of the saboteurs. Uncovering the plot was Babs, a young girl engaged, before his death in an airplane crash, to Mother Carey's only son. Romance in the play ran high between Mother Carey's daughters, Iris and Lorry, and Hap and Dud—though the "course of true love" did not always run smooth! At the end of the play the F. B. I. came to the rescue in the person of Art Childs, formerly suspected of being one of the saboteurs. The Nazi agent, Gill Belde, was discovered; the sabotage prevented, and "Uncle Sam" triumphed again.

The play was directed by Miss McReynolds.

Junior Amateur

The Junior Amateur Club meets in the small auditorium every other Wednesday, and has very interesting programs on which the members perform. Those who do not play an instrument, but who are interested in music, report on current musical events. The club has a few parties each year which are lots of fun. The Junior Amateur Club is affiliated with similar organizations in schools all over the country.

The officers for the year are: John Bradley, president; James Collier, vice-president; Florence Krueger, secretary; and Marilyn Weir, treasurer.

A'Cappella

A 'Cappella Choir is "THE" choir of La Porte High School.

The members are selected from the boys' and girls' Glee Clubs after one semester of work.

The choir forms the nucleus of the opera chorus, sings for various high school activities such as the initiation of the Honor Society Students, Baccalaureate, and for the North Central Teachers' Association at South Bend in the fall.

First Row: Gloria Astroth, Betty Ohlis, Judy Smith, Betty Nelson, Walter Cains, Billy Huber, Barbara Hansen, Betty Wooley. POSTS

At the close of each season, the Slicers huddled together and selected an honorary captain and the most valuable player. These two honors were bestowed on one member of the team, Richard Bachman, who readily deserved these honors given to him by his teammates. After every season the coaches and players of each conference team in the Northern Indiana Conference vote for eleven candidates for the All Conference Team. Two members of the Slicer squad were elected—Dale Rose, a tackle, and Richard Bachman, a fullback. Richard Bachman was also voted the most valuable player in the Conference. Vernon Rose, brother of Dale, was given honorable mention on the All-State Team by one of the top sports writers in the State. Thus the high school football careers for nine seniors ended with high and victorious honors.

The Season

In the late summer days of August under a boiling sun one could hear the grunts and groans of the future Slicer football team as they slowly managed to work the stiffness of the many aches and pains out of their manly bodies. The barking orders of "Colonel" Edmonds and "Knute" DeCook would be heard distinctly above the noise of the boys. As school was about to begin, more ambitious football players sought letters on the varsity, thus rounding out a well-balanced team for the coaches to work into shape for the first game. With the experience of eight lettermen the coach quickly got the squad in shape for the first game, Coach Edmonds taking the backfield and Coach DeCook putting the line together.

The weather suitable for the first game, the Slicers started the season with a bang by whipping Hobart 18-7 which, incidentally, proved that the Slicers had no trouble playing teams out of town.

The first home game was in the making, but the Riley Wildcats proved to be too tough for our Slicers. Handicapped by the weather La Porte came out on the short end of 18-0 score.

Suffering from their first defeat, the Slicers couldn't seem to get rolling against the Blue Blazers of Elkhart. Elkhart's speed was a trifle too much for our Slicers and the final score was 20-7.

The Slicers, eager to get back into the winning column cut loose with some real offensive power by downing the Valpo Vikings 6-0.

Using the Nazi tactics, the Slicer aerial offensive combined with a powerful ground defense was too superior for the Goshen Redskins; therefore the Slicers scored their third victory by 12-6.

After no victories in succession the Slicer machine didn't function so well against the superior running stunts of Washington; thus the Slicer squad took another defeat on the chin. The score was 7-28.

Playing on a rain soaked gridiron, both the Adams Apples and the Slicers seemed to get nowhere because of the continuous rain. The teams played to a scoreless deadlock.

Against Mishawaka the Slicers really surprised the maroons by rolling up nineteen points, but there was something lacking in La Porte's defense because Mishawaka was fortunate in getting nineteen points, also; therefore the game ended in a 19-19 tie.

The last game was the Slicers most important game because of two important facts. First, Michigan City is La Porte's greatest rival; therefore the prestige of both teams was at it's height. Second, since Coach Edmunds took over the job of football coach five years ago, the Red Devils have never beaten the Slicers, which is indeed a successful record for any coach to have in the history of the Slicer's football seasons.

The weather was rather on the cool side but was ideal for a football game. La Porte was at full strength for the annual struggle and likewise was Michigan City. The Slicers had little trouble with the City team and whipped them 18-0. The Slicers held the Red Devils to three first downs which proved that the Slicer defense was too tough for the City Red Devils to penetrate. Thus the Slicers made it the sixth consecutive year in which the Slicers have not been defeated by Michigan City. And so the victorious Slicers ended another successful season.

The Squad

There are many boys who receive no front page write-ups and who are not glorified by making spectacular runs or brilliant passes. These are the boys who make up the reserve and freshman squads. These boys spend most of the time watching the games from the benches, but they are very necessary in encouraging their team-mates and rushing them on to victory. They are the backbone of the team and are vital in keeping up the spirits of the team.

The Reserves

Much credit goes to the reserve team in building up the varsity team. Coach DeCook teaches the boys various fundamentals that are so necessary to a varsity man and plays during the regular practice sessions. The reserves furnish competition for the varsity when the two teams scrimmage together. Many of the boys gain the necessary experience for later games by playing against the varsity as reserves.

The reserve schedule is almost identical with the varsity with the exception of a few games. This year, they won more than fifty per cent of their games.

The "43" reserve team is composed mostly of sophomores, which explains the fact that within a year or two Coach Blanda will have experienced, and therefore valuable men to work with.

Next year, La Porte High School will regret losing the valuable services which Coach Raymond DeCook offered. The Coach has enlisted in the Armed Forces. We all know that he has contributed much to athletics during his few years in La Porte High School. Coach Blanda has appreciated his valuable help in coaching the reserve teams during the past four years.

Coach Ray Addington has charge of the freshman team, and he has done a magnificent job in coaching the freshman boys.

Basketball

Each year after the team has finished their season, it is a custom for the squad to select a captain and a member of the squad who has been most valuable to his team. The honor of being selected captain was given to Jack Allen, who is now in the Armed Forces. The squad selected Dick Schnieder as the most valuable player. These players loyally deserve these honors, given to them by their teammates.

Basketball Season

The 1941-42 basketball team left the future "43" team with six experienced lettermen, but the "43" team was one team which you might call an exception. It was the type of team that one rarely sees. At the start of the season every coach has a "tough" task to perform; that is, the task of selecting a winning combination that will "click" and function so that the team can win ball games. Coach Blanda found this clicking combination at the beginning of the season when the Slicers won their first two games by knocking off Knox and Fort Wayne North Side. After losing the next game to John Adams the Slicers got back in stride by whipping Valpo. Then came the Red Devils, but their speed and versatility was too much for the Slicers and the fighting Slicers went down to defeat. The rest of the season followed with the Slicers winning from Rensselaer, Plymouth, Chicago Heights, and Nappanee. It seems as if the Slicers could not find that winning spirit after the first couple of games.

In many instances "lady luck" seemed to be against the Slicers. In playing against Riley of South Bend the Slicers lost the game in the closing seconds of the last quarter by one point and almost the identical incident happened in the Valparaiso game. The squad seemed to lack that last minute scoring urge.

The fact that the annual Sectional was played at the Civic Auditorium was considered an important advantage for the Slicers. Two new teams took part in the Sectional game, Jackson Twp. and St. Mary's of Michigan City. Stillwell was the Slicers first opponent, but with little effort the Slicers powerful offensive play was too strong for Stillwell. After knocking off Stillwell, the Blandamen smothered LaCross. With these two victories the Slicers advanced to the semi-final.

Disposing of Rolling Prairie quick fashion, the Slicers faced the difficult task of beating Michigan City. The Red Devils still seemed to possess the spirit which enabled them to down the Slicers in a close and thrilling game. One fact that still impressed the fans at the end of the tournament was the sportsmanship and fighting spirit which was seen throughout the entire Sectional.

In summary of the 1943 season, the Slicers won ten games while losing twelve. They scored 742 points, while their opponents scored 739 points.

Next year, Coach Blanda will have five experienced lettermen in making up his 1944 basketball team.

Tennis

The 1942 netters finished a successful season by winning five matches and losing two. Bob Allen, number two man, lead the team with 9½ points, Tom Hay, number one man, was second with 8½ points followed up by Osborn with 7 points and Schnieder with 5 points.

Golf

The height of every young golfer is to become a professional. It takes years of practice and experience to attain the distinction of being a professional. The experience and practice begins in the high school where the golfer becomes interested in playing on the high school squad. The squad competes with different schools in northern Indiana. In recent years, the Slicer golf team has the reputation of being one of the best teams in the conference.

Cross Country

Conditioning for the future Slicer basketball team is one of the main reasons why Coach Blanda calls for the future two-milers every fall. Cross country also gives the boys a chance to participate with other schools in dual meets and each year a Conference meet is held. Lettermen were Allen, Lindsay, Rieter, Wendt, and Cowell. Jack Lindsay was elected Captain.

Baseball

Baseball is America's greatest game, and there is proof in the spirit in which the boys of La Porte High show in trying out for a position on the team. The "43" team is composed largely of underclassmen, but many of the boys have had one or two years experience. Experience and cooperation are the two factors which have brought about the success of the team.

Track

With many of the boys leaving school to join the Armed Forces Coach Edmonds is again troubled with the lack of material in forming the track squad. The track meets have been unusually "tough" and were limited because of transportation difficulties, but not even these obstacles hindered the success of the team.

Cheer Leaders

Whenever the morale and spirit is below par and the boys are fighting their hearts out to win for dear old L. P. H. S. one can almost inevitably depend on the cheer leaders to bring forth that necessary spirit which enables the boys to keep fighting and lead them on to victory. This year the cheer leaders have done more than their share in keeping the spirits of the student body at a high level.

We are greatly disappointed that Hugh Tyler could not finish the season, because I think we all agree that Hugh was one of the finest yell leaders that La Porte has produced in a period of five years. His place was filled ably, however, by Tom Gaeckle. Hugh was a veteran for two years, and we also regret losing the valuable services of Jean Stewart and Dorothy Weed.
